fire

A fire in a hollow of the boulder served for a forge, and on the flatter part was his anvil.
A fire that goes no more out!
A fire can generally be traced.
A fire shall devour them which is not kindled.
A fire in a sky-scraper ought to be fought from above.
A fire was one of the things Toby certainly loved.
A fire is now kindled either by the common matches, ma-tci, or by steel and flint.
A fire in a country village is a great event.
If fire occurs anywhere, let me know at once.
No fire was discovered during the afternoon hike.
And fire spread from the arsenal, too.
The fire still smouldered in the decayed log and numerous sticks still smoked at their ends.
The fire was out and the ashes cold.
The fire mark of Dayton's Teutonia Insurance Company, shown above, first appeared about 1870.
The fire engine is a single-pump Ahrens-Fox and originally cost $4,000.
The fire drove her out with her charge, and it was placed in Mechanics' Pavilion.
The fire rolled in mass straight down upon St. Pierre and the shipping.
The fire wave swept off the masts and smokestack as if they were cut with a knife.
The fire was the thing that held him back.
The fire was increasing to terrific proportions and drawing steadily nearer.
The fire had been carried through the thick woods.
The fire was a success.
The fire has not all gone out of me.
The fire burned the town.
The fire had swept over the summit and the way before them was like the area they had just crossed.
The fire in the little fireplace burned clear and bright, making a circle of light in the dark forest.
The fire itself created a draft.
The fire has an awful start on us.
The fire crew has been on the way four hours.
The fire fighters looked their astonishment, but made no comment.
The fire had started in a cut-over tract just below the edge of the virgin timber.
The fire had shrunk to a white bed of ashes.
The fire he had been fighting was extinguished.
The fire would have spread in an elongated circle, or more exactly an oval.
The fire was low when Bessie awoke with a start.
The fire responded bravely|the old logs were always willing to make a night of it.
The fire that burned forever and ever!
The fire will soon be ready.
The fire bites deeper than the black ants.
The fire is but a pleasant warmth.
The fire drew near.
The fire drew near|and nearer.
The fire was advancing up the stream.
The fire had spared nothing.
The fire at South Kensington has been already described.
The fire was burning low and the embers sent only a feeble glow around the Council Rock.
The fire leaped over roofs and trees, and ignited whole streets at once.
The fire was spontaneous.
The fire swept the streets of all the ordinary dust and rubbish, consuming it instantly.
The fire proved very disastrous, and a large force was speedily concentrated.
The fire had now become several miles in circumference.
The fire was now burning furiously, and the smoke was well-nigh overpowering.
The fire holes are shallow, and the fire slots are quite narrow (fig.
New fire is made at the beginning of their new year with great ceremony.
The fire was now under control.
The fire seems, even to the brutes, to be the emblem of the genius of our humanity.
The fire blazes; the buzz of conversation rises and falls, sinks and swells.
The fire was a mile nearer the camp when the ditch was finished.
The fire doesn't even know it's raining!
The fire which consumes his dwelling is a personal boon, as he can readily explain.
The fire which struck these trees was that from our muskets upon the advancing Rebels.
This fire gained some headway before it was discovered.
This fire was of incendiary origin.
Hold fire best you can.
This fire burnt for a fortnight, and caused the loss of property valued at 2,000,000l.
At a fire in Agar Street, Strand, in November, 1892, a fireman was killed primarily through smoke.
That fire didn't do no real damage|nothin' we can't fix up in a day or two.
Now, fire your broadside at us.
But a fire may start somewhere else, and here I'd be with my fire crew.
Don't fire that gun again in here.
A new fire had to be made, and they worked with feverish haste.
And a fire went out from the Lord, and devoured Nadab and Abihu: God said in the 32. of Deut.
Don't fire under any conditions except by command.
Don't fire a shot; just lay the iron down on them.

If the fire should burn out he did not know how to get more of it.
If the fire puts him out of business it's going to ruin the old man, for he barely makes a living now.
Rarely fire is made by working the drill on a plane surface, in single, non-connecting holes.
It was fire that made it possible for people to have real homes.
Through fire and frost and snow I see you go, I see your feet that bleed, My heart bleeds too.
If only fire could be kept out of the forests, we might some day raise our own timber again.
Being a fire patrol involves a whole lot more than merely walking about through the woods.
By that fire I live.
If at a fire all other means of rescue be unavailable, the sheet should be brought into use.
Training fire horses to pull the heavy engines was a long and complicated task.
When the fire came we were going to our posts (we are engineers) to weigh anchor and get out.
He had a fire brand, too!
The huge fire is fought at every possible point.
The back fire had been started half way in the timber lot.
But don't fire until I give the word.
The steam fire engine, often called a bulljine," could run for hours without tiring.
A wall of fire swept over the town and the bay.
From this fire in front of my home cave I will build other fires.
There was fire and sound, more fire than autumn made burning in the hills.
With open fire trails before them, the chums advanced rapidly.
But Joe's fire and water act was one of the big features on the circus bill.
Flakes of fire fell in all directions, and huge volumes of flame flashed upward to the sky.
But "Never fire first!"
Og and his fire arrested them.
If I see a fire I shall hurry to it, the way I came down to your big smoke.
Around the fire that night we felt a sense of depression because our trip was drawing to an end.
Around the fire sat and lay five girls.
No mark of fire was upon them; they lay there as if asleep.
This great fire proved a terrible object-lesson.
He found a fire raging in the house of a chemist at No.
I hope the fire hasn't spread and reached the house, Bessie.
Around the fire we can forget all the bad things that have happened, and think only of the good.
Boom! rifle fire and cannonade.
Don't let a fire get started, whatever happens.
See how the fire is blazing yonder!
This potent fire of love might doubtless be smothered with sand and ashes, but never extinguished.
The rushing fire seemed to eat up and annihilate the trees.
Our love of fire comes partly, doubtless, from our natural love of destruction for destruction's sake.
The pierced fire hearth is somewhat impracticable, except in the Malay sawing method.
That making fire by this way is difficult to those inexperienced in it is not strange.
Still, that fire was too timely to have been accidental.
There was no fire visible, but the lava dust rained down upon us steadily.
To build the fire he had been forced to remove his mittens, and the fingers had quickly gone numb.
An excellent fire trail would take some of them afoot direct to the first blazes.
They put the fire out while the others finished packing the things that had to be taken back.
Besides, the fire has, no doubt, been spreading in this direction ever since.
He kindled a fire close by his rock, and cooked them upon the coals with his usual success.
Of the other fire which is exterminative and strange, of which it is also in the 10. of Leviticus 2.
An hour by a fire might bring some warmth, but the first step into the open air would drive it away.
And still the fire burned on and scorched his poor soul back into the body to be tortured more.
